MAN CONDEMNED TO DIE EARLY FRIDAY
IS STILL HOPEFUL

SILVER STATED, HOWEVER, WAS READY TO DIE IF GOV-ERNOR FAILS ACT

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Bob Silver is still hopeful that his life will be saved.

He telegraphed his mother, Mrs. Mary Louise Silver, at Austin, an encouraging telegram to this effect today. At the prison, however, and almost in the same breath as his hopeful statement, he said, that if necessary, he is ready to die.

Silver also said that just before he stepped into the electric chair, unless Governor Moody interferes, he will have a statement to make. When asked for details of the statement he continued that it would "express my faith in God and that I believe my sins forgiven." It also will be a farewell to the world.

Prison Chaplain W. E. Miller, standing by Silver when the latter made his declaration, cautioned the sentenced man to "put faith in prayer."

Silver spent a restless night.

Plans for the execution continue to go forward. Warden E. F. Harrell called Governor Moody's office at ten o'clock this morning and said preparations would be continuing either in the form of another respite or execution. He expects to have final word from the governor by 4 p. m.

Silver was convicted of the robbery and murder of a Fort Worth theatre cashier.

TWO GRAND JURIES WORKING ON VICE AND CORRUPTION

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. (AP)—Two grand juries—one in Woodstock, Ill., McHenry county, the other in Chicago—today were hunting down the ring leaders behind vice, election frauds and corruption, in their respective districts.

They named more than 100 persons yesterday in 48 indictments and continued their separate investigations today.

Five of the indictments were returned by the special grand jury investigating election frauds in Chicago, bringing the total number of indictments by special grand juries in this city to an even 100. Seven persons were named, one an assistant state's attorney.

The indictments charged election conspiracies and accused Louis V. Keeler, assistant state's attorney, and John M. Nelson, both of whom were precinct captains in the 27th ward, with filling a false affidavit. Investigators reported the affidavit certified as voters 92 residents of a hotel, whereas only 35 voters lived there.

Charles that Jack Hirsch, a pay-roller, ruled how many votes each candidate should get resulted in the return of Hirsch, Charles "Chick" Hodesman, Paul Dorman and Sam Koppel, an assistant precinct captain in the second indictment. They were charged with conspiracy to alter Republican ballots. The same men were named in another conspiracy indictment charging them with making false election returns.

Koppel was charged in a separate indictment with altering ballots in the 28th precinct of the twenty-first ward, and Daniel Farnell was named in an indictment charging perjury before the grand jury.

How he was chased from a polling place and later fired upon by hoodlums was told the grand jury by the Rev. Isham Smith, negro clergyman who testified he refused the offer of Morris Eller, city collector, to put him on the payroll if he would support the "American" ticket.

The forty-three indictments returned by the McHenry county grand jury named 68 persons on charges of perjury, conspiracy to violate dry laws and violation of the dry laws.

Drawing Power

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Dorothy Greathouse, opera and concert star, will be the chief attraction at a Smith-Robinson rally here November 2, as a result of the political enterprise of the democratic women of Wichita county. A contract for a concert, which will be a part of the rally, was signed yesterday. The woman's democratic league of the county has invited everyone, regardless of politics to hear the concert.

While French and Spanish authorities negotiated for the release of the airmen, the pilots were dragged about from place to place and suffered numerous privations. They passed through hope and despair alternately as negotiations went on.

The negotiations faced a difficult task as the tribesmen's demands were growing daily and it was impossible to do anything to deliver the airmen because it was feared that such a move might bring about their death.

All obstacles were finally overcome by the combined efforts of Col. D. L. Peña Cussi, Spanish commissioner, a representative of the French colonial administration and the airmen's company. The terms on which the release was obtained were not announced.

ROCK-RIBBED OLD GUARD REPUBLICAN STATE TAKES NOTICE

SEVERAL ELEMENTS ENTER-ING INTO HOPE OF DEMO-CRATS THERE

BY BYRON PRICE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25. (AP)—Whatever other purpose it may serve, the democratic try for Pennsylvania has given the present generation of Pennsylvanians their first real close-up of national politics.

Ever since the time of Lincoln, it has been the ordinary thing for this state to sit in its own spacious corner in presidential years, aloof. In her unquestioned republicanism, buying up wealth home and abroad as she did for the party moment to quietly hand over her rich gift of electoral votes to the republican nominee.

This year, however, the democrats have lighted up the premises with the red fire of a Smith campaign. The republican leaders, who four years ago carried the state for Coolidge by just short of a million plurality, have refused to take the present democratic activities very seriously, but neither do they propose to be caught napping.

The result has been an appreciable quickening of interest everywhere. Political meetings are well attended by the partisans of both national tickets. The registration figures have jumped by hundreds of thousands. In short, the state is taking notice, and is preparing to meet the election day with some spirit.

Montreal, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A telegram received today from the steamer Cairnorr, ashore near Cape Whittle, in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, has been accounted for.

The telegram, filed at Wolfe Cove, Que., said that the mate's boat, with 22 men aboard, had landed there.

MONTRÉAL, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Twenty-two members of the crew of the freighter Cairnorr, who took to a lifeboat when the ship ran on the rocks near Cape Whittle on the north side of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Tuesday morning, were missing today.

One lifeboat containing 24 men from the Cairnorr was picked up by the freighter Salacia which answered the ship's SOS and stood by the wrecks. The other boat was missing today.

Local shipping men believed the missing lifeboat had probably been beached somewhere along the coast and that the men were safe.

A tug from Quebec, the Canadian government steamer Arandmore and the customs cruiser Conestoga were ordered to the freighter's aid.

To support their assertions that the returns will show Pennsylvania as rockribbed as ever in its republicanism, the Hoover leaders point out that the new registration rolls, just completed, disclose that seven voters out of every nine in the state list themselves as republicans. The totals show 2,800,000 registered as republicans and 800,000 as democrats. Of course that does not mean that straight party tickets in these numbers will be voted on November 6. Defections are expected, and not even the most optimistic republican is claiming a two million plurality for Hoover. The figures do emphasize, however, how great the defection would be to turn the state to Smith.

Hoover's efforts to accomplish that turnover finds its principal objective in the larger cities and in the coal mining districts. Governor Smith's prohibition views have been counted upon as a powerful leverage both in cities like Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, as among the miners. The state has a large percentage of voters of foreign extraction, and many of them are Catholics. Here in Philadelphia, Senator Vare's republican organization has in its own ranks many leaders who are both wet and Catholic, and Vare's own illness during most of the campaign has not made for solidarity among his lieutenants.

It was a combination of all these elements which led Chairman Parker to decide in the plea of democratic leaders in the state that a real fight be made to swing Pennsylvania to the democratic ticket.

Samuel Fes, former president of the Pennsylvania railway, accepted the honorary chairmanship of a Smith-for-president "citizen's organization," which is working here

SON HAD GIVEN TESTIMONY IN LIQUOR INVESTIGATION
RECENTLY

ABILENE, Oct. 25. (AP)—Officers of West Texas counties, assisted by posses of citizens, were searching today for Bill Fritz, charged with murder for the slaying of Dudley W. Hamilton and his son Earle, 17, at their home near Rochester last night.

A murder charge was filed against Fritz at Haskell today by District Attorney Clyde Grissom.

The fugitive was under indictment in a liquor case in Haskell county in which Earle Hamilton was state witness. Mrs. Hamilton said Fritz called at the Hamilton home last night, getting the father and son out of bed, to demand that the son leave the country before the liquor case came to trial next Monday.

After a conversation in which the elder Hamilton said his son would not leave, a pistol was shoved against Dudley Hamilton's breast, and he fell dead when a shot was fired, Mrs. Dealey said.

The boy then fled, his mother said, and was shot twice, one bullet striking him in the shoulder and another in the leg as he attempted to run into the house through a rear door. He died before a doctor could be summoned.

The assailant fled in an automobile and had not been caught at noon today.

Records showed that Fritz had been indicted for liquor law violations on several occasions and for theft, cases against him dating as far back as 1920.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A man and his son are dead here, victims of bullets fired into them late last night after they stepped to the door of their home at the request of an unidentified man, for whom a posse of 150 was searching today on the theory that he had been accounted for.

The assailant fled in an automobile and had not been caught at noon today.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Alfred E. Smith has opened his final drive for the presidency by hitting back at Herbert Hoover, who, he declares, has described the democratic theory of public ownership and public development as "state socialism." And at the same time used words "to conceal rather than convey meaning."

Before a shouting audience that packed every foot of the Boston arena last night, the democratic presidential nominee took issue with the utterances of his rival on the questions of water power, farm relief and prohibition and declared the time had come when the need of the nation was leadership.

Today, the nominee turned his face toward New York where he will arrive long after night fall after stops at Blackstone and Providence.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—R. H. Tate, a young scientist in West Hartlepool, was given the scientific world something to discuss by declaring he had made a discovery enabling him to overcome the law of gravity.

Newspaper accounts of a demonstration of his method say that this takes the form of a mysterious new metal and that a plate of it floats in the air when placed above a plate of similar material lying on the floor.

Tate declined to say how he achieved his results. He said that he hoped to demonstrate the discovery soon in the presence of leading scientists.

On the republican side, greatest reliance is placed on the protective tariff. Party chiefs regard the tariff policies of previous administrations as having been potential allies. The same men who named the same right wing before the grand jury.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Official delegates of International Brotherhood Welfare association, or conference of hoboos, picked Akron, Ohio, Birmingham, Ala., and Fort Wayne, Ind., from which to select the 1929 convention city at the national convention of the organization here today.

The delegates, originally in session in Dallas, hoboed to Fort Worth to continue the meeting.

DALLAS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Dallas county election board is out about $600 because someone was careless in printing ballots for school amendment election. The two amendments were not printed separately and 103,000 ballots had to be reprinted in order to make certain that the amendments, if passed, could not be attacked in the courts.

The delegates, originally in session in Dallas, hoboed to Fort Worth to continue the meeting.

AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—(AP)—O. R. Hill and Marshall Glover, inmates of the state penitentiary, were granted a ten day furlough each by Governor Moody today. In each instance the leave was given to permit a visit to the bedside of a sick mother.

Hill was sentenced to seven years for burglary and felonious theft from Red River county, and Glover was convicted in Brazos county of robbery by assault and given five years.

DALLAS, Oct. 25. (AP)—Charges that the Rev. The statement was prepared by Mrs. J. Doak Roberts, wife of the president of the Texas Baseball League, who is a member of the City Temple Presbyterian church, and prominent in Sunday school work. It was signed by Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. J. Hardin, president of the Kentucky Club; Mrs. E. L. Hale, president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. J. P. Reynolds, president of the Sunshine Club of the City Temple church, and Mesdames J. R. Allen and Frank Gilbert, prominent so-

lin to the National Safety Congress set a higher motor fatality rate for 1927 than those on the basis of United States census practice. Dr.Dublin puts the rate at 100.5 deaths for every 100,000 vehicles. The other findingputs it at ninety-seven, but puts grade crossing deathson the census bureau principle that the heavier vehicleis to be charged with accidents where vehicles of different kinds collide. But even the ninety-seven-rate shows an increase.Away back in 1917, when there were only about 5,000,000 registered motor vehicles in the United States, the death roll attained the proportions of 178 per 100, 000 vehicles. In 1921, with almost 10,500,000 registered, the proportion had dropped to 118 per 100,000. In 1924, with 20,000,000 vehicles, the rate dropped to100, and in 1926 it fell to ninety-five. For 1927 it stood at ninety-seven. Adding the 2,000 grade crossing motor deaths, Dr. Dublin's estimates seem almost below the mark.

The curve of proportion of accidents to registration of vehicles indicates two things.
The fall from 1917 to 1924 shows that as the drivers of the country became motor-wise they caused fewer accidents. The jump since 1924 shows that the density of traffic has reached a point where it is beginning to more than offset the general improvement of skill in driving.
The only remedy is instilling into the motorist greater reward for safety on the road.

The Motor Vehicle Bureau of Rhode Island has been analyzing accidents. Its director makes the unqualified statement that nearly all are due to carelessness.

Traffic laws may do their utmost, but nothing can elininate the human equation from the accident record.
What a sermon to the man or woman who handles the wheel of a motor vehicle!

FOR A FREE PRESSBy its own attorneys the Chicago Tribune has appeared in the courts of Minneapolisat Minneapolis, challenging a Minnesota statute which clothes the courts there with power to suppress publications by injunction. TheChicago publication goes so far outside of its immediate field because it holds that the general issue of the freedom of the press in the United States is involved.The Minnesota statute is declared to be the only one of its kind in force in any state. Enacted in 1925, the law permits the courts, in actions brought by the attorney general or county prosecutors, to enjoin as a nuisance any "obscene, lewd and lascivious newspaper, magazine or other periodical, or a malicious, scandalous and defamatory newspaper or magazine or other periodical."Under the "malicious, scandalous and defamatory"clause, a publication called the Saturday Press wassnuffed out by temporary injunction by the Hennepin county district court a year ago. A permanent injunctionfollowed the other day.
From the writ granting the permanent injunction the Tribune's attorneys appealedand the final battleground will be the United States supreme court.The issue clearly is an important one. In 1927 the Saturday Press published nine issues in which charges of corruption in Hennepin county and Minneapolis administration were made. The county prosecutor, who applied for the injunction, was himself attacked by the Saturday Press. However, the Tribune takes no interest in the question whether the charges were true or untrue and interposes only on the ground that the Minnesota statute abridges freedom of speech and of the press and hence violates the federal Constitution. The Minnesota supreme court has held the law valid.

The Chicago newspaper makes a case which, we believe, seeks modern assertion of the right and safe principle. The Minnesota law is in addition to its criminal libel law providing trial by jury and the latter should be, and is, enough to cover any case. If such additional laws were spread and such power were extended to numberless prosecutors and courts, it would be a menace of grave proportions. The purpose to guaranteed free speech and free press is clear, though the Constitution's specific prohibition against abridgements is directed against congress, not against the states. There seems need to bring the matter squarely to issue and decision by the United States supreme court.

HORSES OR MOTORS.

The action of the French war ministry in purchasing several thousand American and Canadian horses for the cavalry service is of peculiar interest in view of the manner in which the French viewpoint conflicts with the attitude of the United States war department.

After army maneuvers recently completed, the ministry became convinced that the horse could not only move in areas wholly unaccessible by motor car, but that cavalry movements could be more easily screened than the movements of motor transport.

In contrast with this view, the United States army has reached the conclusion that the only effective cavalry of the future will be a mortized cavalry which permits mounted troops to be moved rapidly into the battle area by motor power.
This theory has been made a basis for the tables of organization of the First Cavalry Division, that is now stationed along the Mexican border, and was the outstanding development of the United States cavalry maneuvers in the Big Bend district of Texas last year.

DABE RUTH TAKES STUMP FOR SMITH AT LOUISVILLE

CROWD ROARS AND REPORTERS DODGE WHEN BAMBINO CRASHES THROUGH CHAIR

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 25.—(P) "Babe" Ruth, king of the slugger, hit a stump speaker for Governor Alfred E. Smith at a meeting here last night, along with John W. Davis, received a lusty welcome from the audience when he pleaded the cause of the Democratic nominee, but the throng was less uproarious a few moments later when a flimsy chair in which he was seated on the rostrum cracked and then collapsed.

The Babe, evidently listening to the remarks of Mr. Davis, discovered his slight too late.

Newspapermen sitting at a table beneath the rostrum, scrambled in every direction as the home run king hurtled forward, but the player averted a complete fall by clutching steadfastly to a nearby railing.

Grinning sheepishly, Ruth righted himself and arose as Mr. Davis and others rushed to his side to assist him if he had been injured.

Ruth, waving the brown derby which he has adopted, finally brought the audience to order, and Mr. Davis resumed.

Ruth had previously compared the political career of the Democratic nominee to that of a baseball player who "delivers the goods" declaring that in the political game, as in baseball, a clean fighter always wins the public's esteem, regardless of petty prejudices.

Tarver and Sharpe Speakers Wednesday Night Ferris Rally

W. A. Tarver, Corsican permanent chairman of Texas democratic convention, and John H. Sharpe, Ennis attorney, were speakers at a democratic rally at Ferris Wednesday night. The rally was held in the theatre and a large crowd was present, including a number of ladies.

Thursday morning, Mr. Tarver stated that the meeting was very enthusiastic for the national democratic ticket, Governor Smith and Senator Robinson, in that box and the leaders at Ferris predicted that the Smith-Robinson ticket would receive approximately ninety per cent of the votes cast.

Saturday night, Mr. Tarver will be one of the speakers at a giant democratic rally in the city auditorium at Houston.

Reports from Houston area show reports from Houston Democrats are to the effect that a crowd of at least 5000 people is expected at the Saturday night meeting.

Suggests Several Anti-Smith Speakers Guilty of Slander

DALLAS, Oct. 25.—(P)—A suggestion that several anti-Smith speakers in Texas be sued for slander has been forwarded to John W. Davis, presidential candidate of the party in 1924, who now heads the lawyers' section of the national democratic committee.

Jacob M. Dickinson, Jr., of Chicago, originated the suggestion after listening to a radio speech broadcast from Fort Worth in which he said he asserted that Governor Smith drank excessively and referred to him as a "crooked tool" of Tammany.

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 25.—(P)—Prison officials today were trailing with bloodhounds three convicts who escaped from the Wynne farm near here last night.

The escape went unnoticed for about an hour.

Why Southern Women Should be Loyal To the Democratic Party

An Appeal to Our Women Voters:

Southern women should be loyal to the democratic party because the party has been in the south where women were revered and honored as in no other age or at any other time in history. Women who are proud of their southern heritage should be glad to renew their allegiance to the true traditions of Thomas Jefferson which are so dear to every woman's heart, whose ancestors fought in defense of their liberties under the constitution of the United States.

Because local self-government is the keynote of democratic government, the South, the peace and the happiness of our nation, without which the principle of sovereignty of the state would perish.

The democratic party is against the centralization of government and the complicated bureaucracy that is becoming more oppressive and arbitrary under the republican party. Southern women should be loyal to the democratic party because it stands against industrial aristocracy and advocates free competition with equal chances for all in the industrial world, especially the farmer against the favored few.

Women should be loyal to the democratic party because it upholds the segregation of the races, denouncing the policies of the republican administration which are trying to drag Southern women down to the level of jungle society. Women, white women of the south before you sit down, save your most sacred and precious rights!

Let us appeal to your party loyalty, women of our Southland, not to permit the republican party to destroy and trail in the dust of defeat, the banner of Southern democracy, for the principles of which our fathers fought, bled and died. Let us proudly hold it aloft and say to them "You shall not pass."

Let us proudly join the ranks of such names as Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, Mrs. James Thompson, daughter of Champ Clark, Governor Mamie

TARVER'S ADDRESS IN HARLINGEN WAS
LAUDED IN WRITEUP*CORSICANA DEMO STALWART
MAIN SPEAKER AT VAL-LEY GATHERING

Prominent notices appeared in the Harlingen Star and the Brownsville Herald of Sunday morning concerning the address delivered by W. A. Tarver of Corsicana, permanent chairman of the State Democratic committee who was the principal speaker at a well-attended Democratic rally in Harlingen Saturday night. The Harlingen Star carried the following story of the meeting on the front page under a streamer head: "Scoring bolters from the Democratic party and describing them as sulkers, and taking fling at Rev. Mr. John Roach Stratton, New York minister, W. A. Tarver, Corsicana, Democratic state convention chairman, addressed a record crowd here last night at the municipal auditorium."

Tarver came here at the invitation of the Harlingen Democratic Club. Claude E. Carter, chairman, who presided at the meeting, which was Valley-wide in its nature, more than 1,000 residents of this section being in attendance.

"In his opening remarks, Judge

Tarver said he was always glad to come to the Valley, not only as a guest of the Democracy of Valley, but because of its newness, its cleanliness, and the intelligence of its people, and because, too, my baby sister, the wife of Sam Botts, lives here in Harlingen."

Unusual Situation.

"It is rather unusual, for us in this section to discuss issues of a campaign. We have been wont to scat the battle from afar until this year," Judge Tarver said. "However, I doubt if Texas will break its record of 60 years this year."

Declaring the campaign this year while unusual, it was not without its compensation. "It is a splendid thing," he said, "to discuss the issues on which the Democratic party is based; it is also well that we renew our devotion to the fundamental principles of the Democratic party."

Referring to bolters of the party this year, the speaker said it is to judge the loyalty and devotion of some of those who have been won't in years gone by to wear the regalia of leadership in party and honors, but when they could no longer rule or have their way in primaries or in councils, they refused to accede with the majority of the party, siding instead with the hopeless minority, and become wukers."

New Spectacle Seen.

Referring to the state convention in Dallas, Judge Tarver said: "A new spectacle presented itself—the spectacle of those who did not agree to submit to the will of the majority of the party. Among those, there appeared on the platform one who has held the high office of governor of Texas, former relatives and uncompromising foe of those of the democratic party who espoused the cause of prohibition, the Hon. Oscar B. Colquitt."

Referring to the Democratic national convention in Madison Square Garden, N. Y., in 1924, and the McAdoo-Smith contest, Tarver asserted Smith did not balk following that affair, but that he continued to render service to his party and went about the discharge of the duties of his office in his usual manner.

Coming down to the Houston convention, the speaker declared: "Governor Smith's candidacy had the support of practically two-thirds of the delegates at the outset, the only outstanding exception being North Carolina. His nomination on practicality, the first ballot was almost unanimous, and came from Democrats, who four years ago required nearly 100 ballots to choose a standard bearer. I come here as a regular party Democrat who believes the Democratic party has been the instrument of the common people, who have been relentlessly trodden underfoot."

The success of the Democratic party is essential to the welfare of this country, and those who participate in primaries and conventions should accept the expressed will of the majority and follow the lead of the leaders.

Throughout the Southland of the United States, there is not, with possibly one or two exceptions, any Democratic office holder who are not today loyal supporters of the Democratic ticket, and they were standing in unbroken ranks accepting their leaders and urging whole-hearted support of the ticket.

"As far as I know, there are but two or three outstanding exceptions among Democrats in either branch of congress who are not giving loyal support to the Democratic party. One of those is Senator Stearns of North Carolina, who is getting old, and who never got over his disappointment in the failure of McAdoo to receive the nomination in 1924."

"The only other senator I know of," Judge Tarver fairly shouted at TEAGUE, Oct. 23.—(Spl.)—Mrs. John Harris displayed a fine bunch of pecans in town which were grown on her farm nearby. They came from a tree eight years old and this is the third crop. The trees are full and the pecans are plump and well flavored. The Teague country is fast earning a reputation for pecan production.

his audience, "hails from Alabama and as far as I am personally concerned, I shall be delighted if Thomas J. Heflin and all he stands for goes over 'boot and baggage' to the Republican party."

Newspapers Back Smith.

Paying his respects to the press of the South, Judge Tarver said what few newspapers were not supporting the candidacy of Gov. Smith and Senator Robinson were exceptions to the rule. Referring to the objections of some who questioned the motives actuating the nomination of Governor Smith, Judge Tarver particularly assured the Rev. Mr. Roach Stratton, New York minister, who he said "is preaching strange doctrines."

Refusing, he said to repeat some of the words used by the preacher at a "religious-politico" meeting on recent Sunday afternoon at the Dallas race track, he quoted the Rev. Mr. Stratton as quoting the nomination of Governor Smith had been brought about by a bunch of political gangsters, cutthroats and denizens of the underworld.

"I resent this as a Democrat, this slanderous account of Democrats in the nation," the speaker said as he mentioned the names of some of the country's well known and loved women leaders who were present at the Houston convention and who took an active part in the nomination of the New York governor.

Alluding to the religious issue being injected into this campaign, Judge Tarver quoted the sentiment expressed by Woodrow Wilson who said "The day has passed when a man's religious faith has anything to do with his holding high office at the hands of the people." Referring to the campaign issues daily during the World war, names are not confined to Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians or Christians. Side by side with these are the names of thousands of Catholic boys who were baptized in the blood of their country."

The crowd applauded Judge Tarver when he declared that never again should a man's religion be brought up as an issue or a test as to his eligibility to hold office—his constitutional right.

Hoover Democrats, Judge Tarver said, were an unusual specimen, known only in the Southern part of the United States. Quoting

FARMER IS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN PASTURE OF HOME

TYLER, Oct. 22.—(47)—The body of R. R. Shipley, 38, farmer, was found in a pasture near his home, about 10 miles west of Tyler, late last night. There was a bullet wound in the back of the neck.

Officers said investigation showed that Shipley left his home early yesterday to go to a neighbor's house, and was passing along a narrow trail at the time of the shooting. They said the bullet wound indicated he had been fired upon at close range with a shotgun.

Distinguished Democrat New York has produced been a member of Tammany. It is not perfect by any means, he asserted, and during the history of the organization when grafters and corruptionists gained temporary control, a Democrat Tilden, cleansed it.

Another attack made on Gov. Smith is made on his attitude on prohibition, the speaker said. The Democratic party, not now nor ever, was for prohibition or anti-prohibition party. Davis and Cox, former standard bearers, he declares, were antis and Woodrow Wilson vetoed the Volstead Act and favored moderation and yet he was not bolted.

"Shall we repudiate Gov. Smith because some of us happen to differ with him on some issues," he asked. "Give me the man who says what he wants to do rather than the man who does not come out in the open."

Concluding, Judge Tarver said that Republicans and "Hoover Democrats" are trembling now as they are in the shadow of the brown derby marching into the White House on March 4 amid the stirring strains of Dixie and the Star Spangled Banner."

In his reference to Tammany, Judge Tarver said that every dis-

When Winter Comes

You use more Electricity!

DAYLIGHT HOURS are longer from April to September. These are the outdoor months. Picnicking, driving, swimming—all kinds of outdoor sports claim your time during these longer days.

From September to March daylight hours are shorter and therefore electric light hours are longer. Less outdoor playtime and more indoor amusement. Electricity makes the indoor hours joyous. It furnishes light and heat, cooks the meals, operates the radio, the Victrola, and performs dozens of jobs that would otherwise be a hardship.

Electricity is the boon companion of shorter days and longer nights. You use more of it in the winter and it gives you countless pleasures, conveniences and comforts.

This chart shows why your light bill is higher for the winter months, than it is for the summer months. It is higher simply because there are more hours of darkness in winter than there are in summer.

First Man to Own DeSoto Six Pays High Tribute to Car

The first Chrysler-built DeSoto Six to be sold at retail in the United States was purchased by W. H. Stewart, of Jacksonville, Fla. So eager was Mr. Stewart to be the first DeSoto Six owner that he made special arrangements with C. W. Matheson, DeSoto vice-president in charge of sales, weeks before the car's announcement and even sent his son to Detroit to take delivery on his purchase.

Mr. Matheson recently received a personal letter from Mr. Stewart which is interesting in that it reflects both the complete ownership satisfaction which characterizes DeSoto Six buyers and the intense interest which the appearance of the new Chrysler-built car has aroused all over the country.

In apologizing for his delay in writing, Mr. Stewart declared he drove his DeSoto Six 1,200 miles the first week and traveled so rapidly that his mail, failing to keep up with him, had constantly to be re-addressed.

"Every time I stopped on my trip," wrote Mr. Stewart, "I had an interested and eager audience. In fact I was called upon to explain the merits and virtues of the car, so repeatedly that I soon became exhausted from lecturing about it. I was working myself to death, and being a satisfied owner, not a salesman, I received no salary or commissions. The car was greatly admired by everyone which only made me admire it the more."

Writing of the mechanical performance of his DeSoto Six, Mr. Stewart paid a remarkable tribute to its hill-climbing abilities.

"I believe the DeSoto Six is the best automobile made for climbing a long hill at a reasonable speed in high gear," he declared. "All during my recent trip I was invariably able to stay in line and forge ahead in high when drivers all around me were changing into second and low speeds. And at no time was there the slightest indication of an overheated motor."

In closing his letter, Mr. Stewart stated that his present DeSoto Six is the third Chrysler-built car he has owned.

"After two months of steady driving," he declared, "I still get a thrill when I get behind the wheel and push down on the gas."

GRAND JURY PROBE OF SLAYING DALLAS
MAN IS SCHEDULED

DALLAS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—One of their number in a hospital with a bullet wound in his arm as a result of a gun battle yesterday with W. P. Fletcher, who was shot to death, members of the police department today started collecting a fund for Fletcher's widow and two children.

The children, Jack, 8, and Mary Ruth, 3, need clothing and shoes, police said, and Mrs. Fletcher needs money for food.

DALLAS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A grand jury investigation was scheduled for today into the slaying by police yesterday of W. P. Fletcher, 49, in a pistol battle, after Fletcher had wounded a policeman who sought to question him.

Police went to the Fletcher home where they found that he was threatening his wife, Fletcher, an eight year old daughter in his arms and his small son beside him, drew his pistol and opened fire on the officers, wounding A. A. Ivey, police man, in the arm.

Fletcher then fled into a wooded section near his home where a squad of police cornered and shot it out with him. The fugitive fell with a bullet through his head and several other wounds.

Police say that Fletcher seemed to want to die and that he shouted, "You never take me alive."

Fletcher was under liquor indictment at the time of the shooting.

formed and why the Anti-Smith Law lost the debate."

C. B. Merriam, a member of the state board of regents, said he was "quite sure" the Wells statement could be correctly branded as unjust, unwarranted and malicious political propaganda.

SMITH HITS BACK AT HOOVER; GETS BOSTON WELCOME

idence, R. J. Waterbury, Derby, Shelton, New Haven, Bridgeport and South Norwalk, Conn.

The governor's overnight stay in Boston was almost one of continuous shouting—except for the time spent in sleep. From the moment he arrived until after he retired to his room in hotel after the night's speech, he was the center of a shouting crowd which 900 police were unable to hold.

Had Full Program

His address at the arena climaxed a full program and was made only after the nominee had stopped en route at Mechanics and Symphony Halls to greet for a few minutes crowds unable to jostle into the other structure.

He was introduced to the gathering, which filled every one of the 10,000 or more seats and packed all available space in the aisles and corners, by Mrs. Francis Wilson, Senator's daughter of Woodrow Wilson, and tears came to his eyes when she referred to him as the man whom her father once had said:

"I believe he feels in an unusual degree the impulses and compulsions of the nation's and the world's affairs."

After wiping his eyes, the standard bearer of the party Wilson twice led to victory thanked the daughter of the last democrat to sit in the White House for her introduction, and took as the text of his address a quotation from Herbert Hoover's acceptance speech.

"We shall use words to convey our meaning, not to hide it," the democrat read.

Not "State Socialism."
He said his rival had uttered these words in August but it was not until last Monday night at Madison Square Garden in New York City that Mr. Hoover had "let the cat out of the bag." In that speech the nominee added his rival had referred to the democratic theory as one of "state socialism."

"Well, how do the members of congress feel who voted for the development of Muscle Shoals by the government?" he asked amid laughter and applause.

"Does Mr. Hoover seriously desire the American people to believe," he went on, "that the application of the Jeffersonian theory of states' rights is socialism? He does not mean that."

Referring to the election the governor said: "If my plan is socialist they the present bootlegging and hijacking and racketeering that is going on is anarchism."

The governor said he had been called a socialist before and if his views on water power development were socialist then former President Roosevelt, Charles Evans Hughes, Owen D. Young and others were members of the socialist party.

He added if his views on farm relief were socialist that Vice-President Coolidge, Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, and others must come under the same classification and that Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, Mr. Hoover's running mate, was 50 percent socialist because he had first voted for the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill and then voted to sustain President Coolidge's veto.

HOOVER TO MAKE ONLY ONE SET SPEECH IN TRIP HOME TO CALIFORNIA NEXT WEEK

BY JAMES L. WEST,
Associated Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(UPI)—Herbert Hoover has allowed him self little time for campaigning on his return trip to his California home station November 6.

Starting from Washington one week from today, he will leave his train only once during the five day journey St. Louis on the night of November 2, where he will make his only set speech of the trip. In that he will discuss the development of inland waterways and farm relief subjects of special interest to the people of the Missouri river valley.

Other stops of the special train of the republican presidential candidate will be made for operating purposes and with the announcement of his plans at his headquarters late yesterday it was stated that there would be no efforts to organize demonstrations at any of those. The nominee, however, will greet those who visit the stations to derome him and will make extempore speeches to them.

The first stop will be at Cumberland, Maryland, nearly next Thursday night and Hoover will make a brief talk there. The train then will cross West Virginia over-night proceeding into Kentucky early Friday. The nominee will speak from the rear platform of his train at Louisville, where his democratic opponent delivered one of his major talks in his tour of a part of the border states.

The Hoover special will reach St. Louis about 6:30 o'clock Friday evening and the republican standard bearer will speak at the coliseum at 8 o'clock central standard time, with his address carried to the country over radio nationwide hook-up. Immediately after the speech Hoover will return to his train which will pull out for Grand Island, the shortest way to California by rail.

Much of Saturday will be spent in crossing the home state of Senator George W. Norris, republican independent, who announced yesterday that he would take the

EFFORTS TO STAMP OUT SALE OF MARRIAGEABLE GIRLS IN CENTRAL ASIA IS A FAILURE

SAMARKAND, Turkestan, Oct. 25.—A merciless struggle against polygamy and the paying of "bride-money" or dowry for Moslem girls has been started by higher communists authorities throughout the Kozak, Uzbek and Tadzhik republics in Central Asia. A special society to fight these Moslem practices has been organized.

Ten years of intensive Bolshevik propaganda have affected the practices of Moslem life by the native population but little, even among certain classes of government officials and communists, who in the depth of their souls still cling to marriageable girls by their parents to the highest bidder, and the subsequent resale of the girls if their bid is later raised by some other man.

An example was the case of a certain Desanov, once a wealthy Kozak, peasant of the Barabashin steppes. He submitted before the Moscow court this letter:

"In 1920 I was married, in accordance with our Moslem customs and ancient traditions, to Maiki Temerekova, and paid for her seven cows, five oxen and ten rams.

Two months later my wife deserted me and joined her father, who sold her soon afterwards to a second husband for 225 roubles cash. I was ruined and all my appeals to local authorities to get my wife or property back were in vain."

Today I have become a pauper, and while my name may be well known, my wife, I have learned, has recently resold by her father to a third husband."

The Sar-Darinsk communist party organization submitted a report stating that kalm and polygamy, although concealed in form, were prevalent not only among non-party members but even among communists.

Another practice adverse to communist doctrine is the trading of

SAYS DEMOCRATS WILL NOT VOTE THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

COUNTY DEMOCRATIC MAN- AGER WELL PLEASED WITH PROGRESS MADE

R. R. Owen, manager of the Navarro county democrats campaign, Tuesday stated that the campaign was going fine and that there were glowing reports coming in from the outlying precincts. He declared that when it comes to a show-down real Democrats will not vote the Republican ticket, although Borah does talk two ways about Hoover.

The women are getting actively into the campaign and much good work is being done by them. Judge Owens pointed out.

A meeting of the friends of the Democratic party, headed by Democrats from all over the County, was held Tuesday here.

ROAD MATTERS IN CORSICANA DISTRICT EXPLAINED BEFORE CHAMBER MEET BY ENGINEER

Survey work on the tentative location of Federal Highway No. 75 from the northern County line to Corsicana will be started during the week under the supervision of the state highway department by state engineer J. W. Alger, resident state highway engineer, announced Tuesday morning at a conference with the board of directors of the Corsicana chamber of commerce.

In discussing the road situation in the county, the engineer denied that survey work was holding up the road building program, but did say that the highway department had ordered the additional crew put to work in this matter.

Final plans and surveys on the roads could not be completed, the engineer stated, until the official designations were announced by the highway commission.

Final plans and specifications on the Richland-Streetman road will likely be completed by Nov. 1. Mr. Alger stated, and then work of securing right of way for the road could be started by the county. The securing of right of way cannot be done in advance because in some localities more than the minimum of land is required for fills and the construction of new channels and drainage structures.

Plans on the Richland to Rice section may be completed within the next 60 to 90 days, the engineer intimated, stating that the hitch in the plans at present was the entrance and exit to the city of Corsicana, and this could not be decided until the bridge engineer had looked over the terrain, and made his recommendations, and the federal bureau at Fort Worth had sanctioned the work.

Construction of an over pass over the T. & B. V. railroad is the principal objection to entrance on Seventh street; according to ideas of the department, within a period of years it was hoped to bring the road in on both Third and Fifth streets, giving two-way traffic through the city without congestion.

Superintendent H. D. Fillers said that he had been asked to broach the project of sending the high school band to Bryan Friday for the game with Allen Academy through the aid of the citizens of Corsicana. The directors commended the enthusiasm of the band but went on record as favoring the postponement of the trip to some more important occasion.

Among those present at the meeting were J. M. Uyer, Sr., W. P. McCannion, H. D. Fillers, E. M. Polk, T. J. Hickey, Beaumont Jesster, J. S. Murchison, F. N. Drane, W. C. Stroube, Lowry Martin, Sidney Marks, J. O. Burke, J. N. Edens, Roy Christian, C. L. Jester, E. D. McCarver and J. W. Alger.

REDWATER BANK LOOTED BY YEGGS MONDAY NIGHT

TEXARKANA, Oct. 23. (P) Robbers looted the Guaranty Bond State Bank of Redwater, about 20 miles west of Texarkana, last night of $5,000 in cash and securities.

I. W. Banks, cashier, opened the bank today and found all doors locked as usual.

After they apparently had unlocked the doors with a skeleton key, the robbers turned the 4,000-pound safe on its face and cut a hole in its back with an acetylene torch.

Officers were unable to find any fingerprints, leading them to express the belief that the robbers wore rubber gloves. The loot comprised $3,000 in cash and $2,000 or more in securities. The loss was covered by insurance.

SHOOTING FEDERAL DRY AGENT MONDAY REMAINS MYSTERY

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(P)—A federal dry agent, Thomas Ryan, was shot down in a federal court room yesterday in the presence of 40 persons, yet who shot him, or why, remained a mystery.

Ryan himself thought for a second it was a joke; that someone had exploded a firecracker in the hall, for in which U. S. Commissioner Edwin Walker was holding court. Then he felt the bullet which struck him in the shoulder, cried "I'm shot!" and slumped to the floor. He was seriously, though not seriously wounded.

In the moment of excitement that followed, at least six men left the courtroom. Then the doors were locked.

No assailant could be found. It was a bullet from a 25-calibre automatic that had wounded Ryan, but no such weapon nor even an empty cartridge of any sort was found among officials and spectators.

The suggestion was later made that the bullet could have been fired from a "fountain pen" gun, but no search for such a weapon was made.

Ryan has risen from his chair to be sworn as a witness in a liquor hearing when the shot was fired.

Will Trammel of Fayetteville was here on business Tuesday.

W. M. Cook of Black Hills visited in the city Tuesday.

Human Side of Great Leader Revealed At Farewell Scene

Old Hero At Tearful Parting With Friends Strips Bare His Soul — Fearlessly Facing Fate, His Solitude All For Others — A Moving Bit Of Biography.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Current literature is passing! Often it dogs men's footsteps as through what it calls a period of "debuting." Popular biographies and fiction are being turned out in an overwhelming stream, all designed to prove that the great were not great, the good were not good, and the wise were not wise—and, in short, that the heroes of history were no better than their present biographers.

One world hero the fifth-singers cannot touch. This great figure, who has meant more to mankind than Alexander or Caesar or Napoleon, was a many-sided pioneer and adventurer; a callous-handed toller among the working people and a philosopher in the forum of Greeks; acclaimed as a god one day and nobbed the next; a fearless patriot defying kings and a saint suffering indignity at the hands of half-baked followers; a statesman laying the foundations of a spiritual empire, and a prisoner proving how the strong and serene soul may triumph over the trials of the body. He rises with a wisdom that has kept millions of scholars poring over his words, his life displayed the simplicity and tenderness of a little child. Great in his soaring speculations and in his grasp of loftiest truth, he yet found time to be a warm friend of many individuals, loving and leaning upon them with romantic devotion. In all the galleries of the great, there is no human figure to match that of Paul of Tarsus, scholar, tentmaker, preacher, organizer, traveller, chancion and saint.

It has been my privilege to travel over all the far-scattered scenes of this great life, from his birthplace in Tarsus to the desert of his solitude in Arabia; from the Jerusalem of his fanatical phariseism, to the Ephesus and Corinth and Philippi of his momentous ministry; from his base at Antioch to his far farings in Asia Minor and Macedonia; from the Athens of his soaring intellectualism to the Rome of his dungeon and death. At whatever point one touches Paul, his personality grips the imagination; alike amidst the primitive scenes along the Syrian coast of the Mediterranean, and in the sumptuous church of his traditional sepulchre, in St. Paul's Outside-the-Wall, Rome. What a many-faceted diamond his life was! The Bible tells only part of the story, the rest may be read in his Epistles. And withal, he was first and last the single-minded servant of Jesus Christ.

The Monk's Lament.
Contemplation of the variety and extent of Paul's life and achievement recalls a conversation which I had one day with a friend who is Jerusalem's greatest archaeologist, Pere Vincent, a Dominican monk, who replied to a compliment with the wistful exclamation: "When I think of all the vast fields of knowledge concerning which I am ignorant—astronomy, mathematics, chemistry, economics, philosophy, and what not, about which my brethren know so much, I feel like a child, and wonder if I shall ever learn." I reminded him of Paul's word, "Now we know in part, but then shall we know fully," and we then fell into talk about eternity's compensations for time's limitations.

Even Paul, the versatile, with his matchless full life, was yet found unsatisfied with himself and his attainments. Yet he pressed toward the mark, in unceasing ambulation to the end. And his ramifying interests, and overwhelming responsibilities, such as care for all the churches, never made a cloistered scholar or secluded statesman of him. He was always avid for the human touch. He loved people. To him was given that genius for friendship which is a basis of power. He thought of his work in terms of individuals. How patient he was with the converts, and how helpful. Even his devotion to Christ was so personal as to be a passion of friendship as well as of worship and of service.

A Farewell Reunion.
As this week's lesson, the International Committee has assigned the story of Paul's parting with the elders of the Ephesus church at Miletus, one of the most moving passages in all scripture. The millions of persons who have been studying this six-month's course in the Life and Letters of Paul, with cultural results to society beyond computation, will find a new glow of tenderness in their hearts after this lesson. For to these friends and fellow workers, whom he expected never to see again, the great apostle bared his heart, his motives, his innermost experiences. Ere they parted, with tears such as only one who has seen an oriental farewell, can understand he laid upon these dear friends the responsibility for carrying on the church.

In passing, let it not be overlooked that deep and abiding and satisfactory friendships are formed in Christian service. Young folk do not fully sense the significance of these, despite the good times they have together in church and Sunday school and young people's societies. It seldom occurs to youth that one of the most precious rewards of congenial commingling with fellow Christians, myriads of men have found their life companions in Christ. Endeavor. As we grow older, it is a satisfaction beyond the attainment of money or distinction, to find this fellowship continuing with old associates who have had the deepest things of life in common. Who so finds Christ also finds the friends of Christ; and no tie that binds human spirits together is stronger than this one.

When Reckoning Comes
of late, many men, teachers, writers, officials, have had a deal of explaining to do concerning what they have received from public charity interests, as revealed by the investigation. Past incidents have arisen to shame them. For man is never "the dead past."

PARACHUTE JUMPER SAVED WHEN LANDED ON BIG CIRCUS TENT

SAVANAH, Ga., Oct. 23.—(P)—James J. McFadden, parachute jumper, has had his greatest thrill and, incidentally, his closest escape to death.

McFadden, who was recovering in a hospital today from concussion of the brain, went aloft yesterday in a balloon as a special "stunt" for the Georgia State Fair.

In Paul's case, he could point with pride, at parting, to his past. It was an open book with which all were familiar. He had not won wealth for gain or for honor. With his own hands he had maintained himself as his minister. No lover of money he. In the light of Paul's example and teachings, it is a disgrace for any man to grow rich by preaching the gospel. Any evangelist who has piled up a fortune through his meetings is a worse heretic than the modernists whom he excommunicates. Nobody can be a lover of money and a sincere shepherd of souls. On that point the New Testament is explicit. No scriptural motives moved Paul; pure motives lay in his records, "I have coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel."

Let us terminate this glimpse of the humanness of a saint with Luke's own record: "And when he thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all. And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him. Scowling most of all for the words which he spake, that they should see his face no more."

Boerne School Girl Taken From Classes On Way to New York

PONT ARTHUR, Oct. 25.—(P)—Three persons held in city jail here contend with the alleged abduction of Dorothy Golden, 12, of Boerne, were released today on a writ of habeas corpus. Those at liberty under bond in the case are Mrs. Betsy Gregory Golden, her husband, R. M. Golden, and Mrs. Floyd Sharp.

Police here, convinced that the child is the daughter of Mrs. Golden, released the girl in custody of the mother.

PONT ARTHUR, Oct. 25.—(P)—A strong wind idly watched him leap from the balloon at a lofty altitude and drop downward, was heard to gasp a moment later when his parachute failed to open.

Hopelessly spectators stood by watching the jumper spinning earthward at a terrific speed, until he finally disappeared on top of a large canvas tent which covered the ruin show of a circus.

McFadden, it was found, had landed on the canvas, head downward, but had escaped with only a slight concussion of the brain. He was expected to be released from the hospital soon.

PERMANENT HIGHWAY WORK IN NAVARRO COUNTY WILL BE SPEEDED UP NEXT YEAR

Continued favorable weather conditions will likely see considerable work done on the highways within Consolidated Road District No. 1, both on the lateral roads within the district and also on National Highway No. 75. Many persons interested in the road have expressed impatience with the progress of the work on Highway No. 75 through Navarro county, north and south, and point to other sections of the highway in Texas where bonds were voted after Consolidated Road District No. 1 voted the $2,600,000 bonds in June, 1927, and construction has already started.

Considerable delay on the actual building of this road hinged upon the designation of the highway through the county. Work has been in progress on detail work since the State highway department and the federal department officially designated the road east of the Houston & Texas Central railroad dump. It is also expected that the work on the road will be speeded up with the voting of the bonds for the gap through Ellis county a few weeks ago and it has been hinted that an additional engineering crew is due to be put to work in the surveying of the route through the county within the immediate future. J. W. Alger, resident engineer, says it is not the engineers that are holding up the work.

South End First. The commissioners' court has already placed funds in escrow for the engineering and drainage structures and dump with the highway department on that section of the highway from Richland to the county line south. It is understood that the contract for the dirt and drainage structures will be awarded in the near future. Engineers are busy laying out the route north from Richland and from present indications, that portion of the highway from Richland north to the county line will be the last section to be built. Both on the north and south sides of the county it will be necessary for the dumps through the creek bottoms to set a considerable time, probably eighteen months, but there is a possibility that when the main portions of the dump is ready for the concrete to be poured, that the work will be done and the gaps left with traffic diverted over the roads to aid in the packing of the fills. In some cases gravel has been put on gaps of unusual fills and when the dump has set sufficiently, then concrete is poured to connect up with the remainder.

A big dump will be constructed in the Rice bottom sector and also at the south. Highway No. 75 will likely come through Corsicana down Seventh street. A huge overhead bridge is contemplated alongside of the present H. & T. C. R. R. dump to span the T. & B. V. track much like the railroad crossing. A huge bridge will also be constructed but details of the plan have not been fully determined.

Tap Road to Be Built. The petition for the bond issue called for the road to enter Corsicana via the Lyman Davis corner on North Beaton street, thence to the present pavement. The Emhouse lateral will begin at the end of the pavement on North Beaton street and a tap road, 18 feet wide, will tap the 18 foot road at Lyman Davis corner, from the main highway No. 75, which will be slightly more than a mile to the east at that point under present plans. On the south of town, an 18 foot tap is to be constructed from the pavement at the intersection of South Fifteenth street and West Thirteenth avenue, which will join the main highway several miles to the south. In this manner, any person who desires to drive through the city can do so over an 18 foot slab, or can continue straight through.

From the conversation of engineers, it is expected that the dirt work and dump for the main highway will get under way soon, probably by the first or soon after the New Year.

It is necessary for 100 foot right of ways on the main highway through the county. The commissioners' court, it has been pointed out repeatedly, has nothing to do with the construction of the main state and federal highways, but all engineering, plans and specifications, awarding of contracts and construction is entirely within the hands of the state highway department. The county is given the county's part on the highway and the construction and maintenance is entirely out of their hands.

Lateral Roads. The Drane lateral road extending several miles west of the State Orphans' Home, was the first work done on the system of concrete roads within Consolidated Road District No. 1. The concrete has been laid and it has been opened for traffic for some time. All that remains to be done on this road is the bringing up of the shoulders of dirt in the sectors so that the public traffic can more easily get back on the 9 foot slab after getting off when passing other traffic. This work has been held up for a considerable time due to the fact that the county engineers having contended that the contractor, F. P. McElwraith, should do certain work under the contract. However, a ruling from the state highway department, under whose contract the county and Mr. McElwraith worked, sided with the contractor and plans are being made for the finishing of the work at once. Both the contractor and the court agree that the work should be done at once. Work of fixing up the shoulders on the Drane road is expected to begin within a few days.

The 16 foot concrete slab from Corsicana to the Hogan Bridge on Chambers creek has been completed and has been opened for traffic most of the way. At the present time, Mr. McElwraith's force is pouring concrete on the lateral road sector from the Three Way filling station to Navarro. When the work is finished on the Navarro road, it is probable that the Roane sector from Hogan bridge to Roane will be constructed. The work on the Chaffield sector of that road from Hogan bridge to Chaffield was held up considerably by trouble in getting right of way and some of the dirt work has not been completed. MAINE WOMAN WAS HEARD IN SPEECH AGAINST AL SMITH

Censuring the methods alleged to have been used by party leaders in gaining control of affairs and in securing the nomination of Governor Alfred E. Smith for the presidency, Mrs. W. R. Pattangall, former national committeewoman of the anti-Smith organization of Maine, addressed a meeting of the anti-Smith organization of Navarro county in the Navarro Hotel banquet hall Tuesday afternoon.

Attacking the activities of Tammany Hall, she declared that the office.

Denouncing the immigration organization was on a par with the great danger in America today, she declared that the younger voters who could not remember the evils of the anti-prohibition days would be swayed to support the candidate. Living near the Canadian border, the speaker said that she had been able to watch the working of their system in the district and she said that she had reliable information that there were more arrests, more drunkenness, more bootlegging and more hard liquor used than ever before.

She declared she was supporting Hoover because he was a dry and because he was a better friend of Woodrow Wilson than many members of his own party. She recounted that she had been the recipient of many scurrilous letters since she had taken a stand against Smith. She declared that she believed that the party would be virtually killed this year, and buried, but that she believed that it would be resurrected in greater glory after it was over.

She declared she was supporting Hoover because he was a dry and because he was a better friend of Woodrow Wilson than many members of his own party. She recounted that she had been the recipient
